At OhioHealth, we recognize that innovation is more than doing something entirely new. It also means recognizing your strengths, refining what makes you great and using what you’ve learned to guide your path forward.

Orville and Wilbur Wright are remembered for creating the first successful airplane, but they also manufactured bicycles in a small shop in Dayton, right here in Ohio. Their business success financed their experiments with flight, and the knowledge they gained from building bicycles guided the design of the famous Flyer.

Their achievement was not the result of a single moment of inspiration, but the product of trial and error, iteration and discovery. They challenged and overturned conventional wisdom, re-engineered existing technology, and developed ideas that were entirely new, all while continuing to improve the bicycles they were known for.

The same sentiments guide our vision for the future of healthcare: to continue providing exceptional care to people when they are sick, while exploring new ideas for keeping people healthy.

WE ARE DRIVING INNOVATION IN HEALTHCARE.

At OhioHealth, we recognize that innovation is more than doing something entirely new. It also means recognizing your strengths, refining what makes you great and using what you’ve learned to guide your path forward.

Orville and Wilbur Wright are remembered for creating the first successful airplane, but they also manufactured bicycles in a small shop in Dayton, right here in Ohio. Their business success financed their experiments with flight, and the knowledge they gained from building bicycles guided the design of the famous Flyer.

Their achievement was not the result of a single moment of inspiration, but the product of trial and error, iteration and discovery. They challenged and overturned conventional wisdom, re-engineered existing technology, and developed ideas that were entirely new, all while continuing to improve the bicycles they were known for.

The same sentiments guide our vision for the future of healthcare: to continue providing exceptional care to people when they are sick, while exploring new ideas for keeping people healthy.

WE WANT TO TALK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE.

Columbus is one of the top locations in the country for young professionals, with a mix of big-city amenities and small-town affordability. OhioHealth offers a wide range of professional experiences in communities throughout central and southeast Ohio, giving you the opportunity to find the perfect fit for your family and your career.

You can contribute to a culture that has repeatedly made OhioHealth one of the Fortune “100 Best Companies to Work For.”

And you can collaborate with MD Anderson Cancer Network-certified physicians, use telemedicine to seek the real-time advice of experts across the system, be a part of our state-of-the-art Neuroscience facility, Level 1 Trauma Center or Primary Stroke Center, or find your fit in any of our ambulatory or specialized care sites across the central region of the state.

We know you’ll be doing a lot of research into OhioHealth and other opportunities on the horizon, and we want you to have all the details you need to make an informed choice. If you have questions, need more information, or would like to speak with a fellow physician about their OhioHealth experience, just ask. We’ll connect you with the right people.

WE WANT TO TALK ABOUT YOUR FUTURE.

Columbus is one of the top locations in the country for young professionals, with a mix of big-city amenities and small-town affordability. OhioHealth offers a wide range of professional experiences in communities throughout central and southeast Ohio, giving you the opportunity to find the perfect fit for your family and your career.

You can contribute to a culture that has repeatedly made OhioHealth one of the Fortune “100 Best Companies to Work For.”

And you can collaborate with MD Anderson Cancer Network-certified physicians, use telemedicine to seek the real-time advice of experts across the system, be a part of our state-of-the-art Neuroscience facility, Level 1 Trauma Center or Primary Stroke Center, or find your fit in any of our ambulatory or specialized care sites across the central region of the state.

We know you’ll be doing a lot of research into OhioHealth and other opportunities on the horizon, and we want you to have all the details you need to make an informed choice. If you have questions, need more information, or would like to speak with a fellow physician about their OhioHealth experience, just ask. We’ll connect you with the right people.