Clinical Pastoral Education

at OhioHealth

Residency Program:

In our year-long CPE Residency Program, we offer residents the opportunity to earn three clinical pastoral education (CPE) units. Each consists of 100 hours of structured group and individual education, and 300 hours of supervised clinical practice in ministry. The following themes are addressed in this year-long program:

- Unit 1 - orientation and pastoral theology
- Unit 2 - family systems and the behavioral sciences
- Unit 3 - integration and leadership

Students enrolled in the year-long residency program will attend group sessions eight hours a week. Typical group sessions include:

* a verbatim seminar in which written descriptions and analysis of a pastoral visit are presented for critique
* an interpersonal group in which students examine their relationships with each other, their supervisors and the curriculum, and learn through mutual support, confrontation and clarification
* a didactic seminar in which conceptual material is presented Residents are also expected to schedule weekly one-hour individual supervision sessions. Additionally, residents are expected to take approximately 24 hours of on-call time every other weekend in rotation with their peers. Some weekday on-call time is also expected, as well as occasional evenings and weeknights.

Residents are expected to provide 20 hours of pastoral care each week, not counting weekend on-call. Residents should expect to devote 40 hours a week to their program.
